

Fort Hood 3 Found Guilty

Fifth Estate Collective

1966

The Fort Hood Three—the three GI's who refused to serve in Vietnam—were tried last week by a court martial board and found guilty. Pvt. Dennis Moras received a three year sentence at hard labor and Pvt. David Samas and PFC James Johnson received five years of the same.

The Fifth Estate spoke with Marlene Sam as, wife of one of the convicted men. She said the trio would face at least two review boards, both of which have civilian members on them. Mrs. Samas asked that any donations or requests for information be sent to the Defense Committee at 5 Beekman St. NYC.

Defense activities in this area are being coordinated by the Detroit Committee to End the War In Vietnam, 1101 Warren.
