

Daily Barbarian Number 2

Daily Barbarian

FE Home > Issue 316, Spring, 1984 >

- Nature Imprisoned at the Zoo
- Why, What, Who Barbarian
- Poetry Page
- Absolute Divergence
- Fuck Governments

Barbarian & Fifth Estate

This issue of the Daily Barbarian is not only being distributed throughout the Detroit area for free, but thanks to the members of the Fifth Estate collective, it is also appearing as the center four pages of their paper. This means that along with the 3,000 copies we're printing, an additional 3,000 will be sent all over the U.S. and different parts of the world through the subscription and bookstore sales of the FE.

Both the Barbarian and the FE are anti-authoritarian publications, sharing basically the same views and ideals. In fact, some people work on both publications, but we want to point out that both publications are separate entities. The FE collective makes no editorial decisions concerning the Barbarian, and the same goes for us in relation to their project. You might then ask, "Why publish two separate papers?" Apart from the two publications having different functions and priorities, we believe that there should be dozens of Barbarians and Fifth Estates, not only in Detroit, but everywhere.

In the '60s, "underground" newspapers appeared and flourished because not only had the "legitimate" press lost what little credibility they had, but there was also a growing need for people to express themselves in a manner that was not allowable in the establishment newspapers. Now it's the '80s and those "legitimate" newspapers that people rebelled against are still here, with their traditional policy of lies and non-events they just put some new window-dressing on it—their traditional policy of inaccessibility and all of this with even less credibility than before. They're still here, but the "alternative" press—we don't mean those slick advertising circulars like the Detroit Metro Times—has almost disappeared. We believe the need is still there for the FEs and Barbarians of the world.

DAILY barbarian

NATURE IMPRISONED AT THE ZOO

The animals at the zoo are not just prisoners, they are also prisoners of their own nature. In a city where the sun is often hidden behind a layer of smog, the animals are deprived of the natural light and fresh air they need to thrive. The zookeepers claim that the animals are happy and healthy, but those who have spent time at the zoo know the truth. The animals are often seen pacing back and forth in their enclosures, a sign of stress and boredom. The zoo is a place where nature is imprisoned, and the animals are the prisoners.

The zoo is a place where nature is imprisoned, and the animals are the prisoners. The zookeepers claim that the animals are happy and healthy, but those who have spent time at the zoo know the truth. The animals are often seen pacing back and forth in their enclosures, a sign of stress and boredom. The zoo is a place where nature is imprisoned, and the animals are the prisoners.

Barbarian in a window

Why What the barbarians

The barbarians are not just a race, they are a way of life. They are a people who live in a harsh and unforgiving environment, and they have adapted to survive. They are a people who value strength and honor, and they are a people who are not afraid to fight. The barbarians are a people who have a rich and complex culture, and they are a people who are proud of their heritage. They are a people who are a part of the world, and they are a people who are here to stay.

BARBARIAN &
FIFTH ESTATE

The barbarians are not just a race, they are a way of life. They are a people who live in a harsh and unforgiving environment, and they have adapted to survive. They are a people who value strength and honor, and they are a people who are not afraid to fight. The barbarians are a people who have a rich and complex culture, and they are a people who are proud of their heritage. They are a people who are a part of the world, and they are a people who are here to stay.

Foreign Dies
In His Sleep

Foreign dies in his sleep

fifth Estate

Daily Barbarian
Daily Barbarian Number 2

<https://www.fifthestate.org/archive/316-spring-1984/daily-barbarian-number-2>
Fifth Estate #316, Spring, 1984

fifthestate.anarchistlibraries.net