Harvey Ovshinsky

1966

The Fifth Estate, our answer "to what could be happening in Detroit if people knew where to find it," has moved from its Post Office box in Bloomfield Hills to 1107 Warren. Located just off the John Lodge expressway and four blocks from Wayne State University, the paper is making the move as the first of many steps to improve itself and to eventually come out weekly.

Working hours at the Fifth Estate are from 1:30 to 5:30 every day except on weekends. Layout people and writers are desperately needed and can stop by or call the office.

The Fifth Estate is located in the center of Detroit's active liberal center. On the left of us is the Artists' Workshop, The Free University of Detroit, the Workshop's printing co-op, & the Detroit Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

So, if you're in the neighborhood, stop by and give us a hand. If you are not, give us a call and we'll tell you how to get there.
