A preliminary statewide planning meeting of a group formed to combat the special state Senate Investigating Committee looking into campus problems will be held March 15.

The Michigan Coalition for Political Freedom will meet at St. Joseph's Church that Saturday at 10:30 am. The coalition represents student, faculty and citizen groups from across the state.

Films are being planned as part of the meeting including "Point of Order," about the Army-McCarthy hearings and the National Mobilization film about the Chicago police riot.

Discussions will center on formulating strategy and tactics for dealing with the proposed witch-hunt.

All interested persons and groups are invited to attend.
